

SENIOR LECTURER: ARCHITECTURE

Architecture, Planning and Geomatics

FACULTY OF ENGINEERING AND THE BUILT ENVIRONMENT (EBE)

The University of Cape Town (UCT) is one of the leading higher education institutions on the African continent. It embraces a tradition of academic excellence that is respected worldwide. The academic project remains at the heart of UCT's mission, which is built on three pillars at the core of Vision 2030: excellence, transformation, and sustainability.

The School of Architecture Planning and Geomatics (APG) is situated in the Faculty of Engineering and the Built Environment at the University of Cape Town. APG is committed to spatial justice in post-apartheid South Africa. Through our teaching, research, and interactions, we aim to advance APG as an established space for critical thought and strive to create relevant societal, economic, and environmental positions. We are dedicated to developing outstanding graduates and scholars who can make a progressive contribution through their work.

APG offers undergraduate and postgraduate qualifications in architecture that are aligned to the professional registration categories of the South African Council for the Architectural Profession (SACAP). We seek to appoint a full-time academic staff member within the architectural programme at Senior Lecturer level. We seek someone who can contribute effectively through diverse research methods and thoughtful teaching approaches.

The successful applicant will be expected to participate actively in the intellectual life of APG. Full-time members of staff are required to carry a full teaching load that includes studio as well as coursework teaching, to produce research outcomes, to engage in socially responsive activities, and to contribute to management and leadership at Senior Lecturer level.
